DISC TWO

Bonus Features

"An Epic At Sea"—The Making Of Pirates
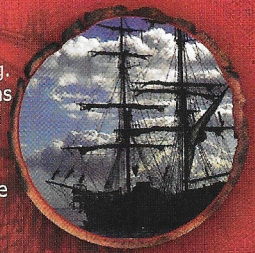
This in-depth documentary reconstructs the filmmaking process from each participant's point of expertise. Actors share their experiences. Location scouts look for the perfect settings. Production designers reveal how they created the film's rich canvas. You'll see what was involved in turning modern-day vessels into 18th century ships — the Black Pearl, the Dauntless and the Interceptor. Makeup artists and costume designers take you behind the scenes for a look at the research, design and creation of detailed makeup and stunning costumes for hundreds of cast members. You'll witness how everyday actors were trained to become master swordfighters. Go behind the scenes with the geniuses at Industrial Light And Magic and see how the incredible effects were created. Finally, the story of Pirates ends where it all began — at the unforgettable premiere at Disneyland.

"Diary Of A Ship"
One "star" of the film had a harrowing journey prior to filming. Follow the course of the Interceptor (aka Lady Washington) as she travels from the Port of Los Angeles, through the Panama Canal, to her final destination — the Caribbean. You'll not only see how difficult it is to sail a vessel this massive, you'll witness how nature's wrath altered her progress and her route along the way.



"Diary Of A Pirate"
See what it's like being an actor playing a pirate in this behind-the-scenes look at a day in the life of cast member Lee Arenberg, who plays Pintel in the film. From wardrobe, to hair and makeup, to rehearsing, to goofing around with cast and crew, you'll get a taste of filmmaking from an entirely different perspective.

Producer's Photo Diary With Jerry Bruckheimer
What was Jerry Bruckheimer thinking and seeing as Pirates was being filmed? A conversation with the blockbuster producer and a gallery of his pictures give you insight into creating the film through his eyes.

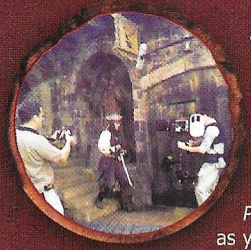
Bonus Features



"Fly On The Set" Featurettes
These cinema verité pieces give you a unique perspective into the creative process of making a scene happen. Be a fly on the set at the filming of five scenes: Town Attack, Tortuga, Blacksmith Shop, The Cave and Jack's Hanging.

Blooper Reel
Pirates is one of the most entertaining films in a long time. So, as you can well imagine, a collection of outtakes from the making of the film must be absolutely wild.

"Below Deck"—An Interactive History Of Pirates

Pirates. The word conjures up rebels on the high seas living a colorful, swashbuckling life. Explore the myths, legends and lifestyles of real pirates in this exceptional and informative interactive experience. You'll interact with and learn secrets of pirates through short documentaries and unique "clickables." You'll be privy to historic documents, and you can investigate many items found within a cross section of a virtual ship. (A PRISONER'S LAST TALE tour mode lets you see the highlights of this piece without navigation.)

Deleted And Alternate Scenes
What filmed moments and scenes were left on the cutting room floor? This Collector's Edition DVD presents 19 of them.

"Moonlight Serenade" Scene Progression
As night falls, the moon rises, shining its light on the sea below. It catches Barbossa's pirates in its beam and turns them from flesh to bone. The anatomy of this complicated and compelling sequence is truly astonishing. See its development from storyboards to the final scene in the film.

Walt Disney's Wonderful World Of Color
Pirates, the movie, pays homage to the attraction and opens the Disney vault to present a portion of "Disneyland From Pirates Of The Caribbean To The World Of Tomorrow"— the archival TV program where Walt Disney previewed his upcoming attraction.

Image Galleries
Experience the artistry of the film as you view a collection of concept art, costume design sketches, production stills and publicity art.

Enhanced Computer Features
